

International and Interdisciplinary Research Group
THE GERMAN HALF-DAY MODEL: A EUROPEAN SONDERWEG? The 'Time Politics' of Public Education in Post-war Europe: An East-West Comparison

Funded by the Volkswagen Foundation

Interdisciplinary Workshop

Welfare State Regimes, Public Education and Child Care

Theoretical Concepts for a Comparison of East and West

Potsdam, March 31 - April 1, 2006

Center for Research on Contemporary History, Potsdam

Short Bios of the Participants

Cristina Allemann-Ghionda

is Professor of Education at the Department of Education, University of Cologne. Her main research fields are: comparative and intercultural studies on educational policies and theories, currently focussing curricular issues at the different levels of education, the reform of teacher education, the implications of globalization, migration, European integration, cultural pluralism, bilingualism, and multilingualism for the content and organization of education, as well as full-day and half-day schooling in European education. She is co-editor of the journal Zeitschrift für Pädagogik. Her recent publications include: „Ganztagsschule im internationalen Vergleich – von der Opposition zur Arbeitsteilung zwischen Staat und Familie?“ In Ganztagsschule. Halbe Sache – großer Wurf? Schulpädagogische Betrachtung eines bildungspolitischen Investitionsprogramms, ed. Toni Hansel (Herbolzheim, 2005), pp. 199-223. Einführung in die Vergleichende Erziehungswissenschaft (Weinheim, Basel, 2004); Schule, Bildung und Pluralität: Sechs Fallstudien im europäischen Vergleich (Bern, 2002, second edition); editor, Education et diversité socioculturelle (Paris, 1999).

Christina Bergqvist

Is Associate Professor at the Department of Government, Uppsala University, where she received a PhD in Political Science in 1994. Her research focus: on political representation, women's agency, childcare policies and the welfare state. Her most recent publications include: together with Anita Nyberg, "Welfare State Restructuring and Child Care in Sweden" In Child Care at the Crossroads: Gender and Welfare State Restructuring, eds. Sonya Michel and Rianne Mahon (New York, London, 2002), pp. 287-308; together with Kerstin Sörensen, Gender and the Social Democratic Welfare Regime. A Comparison of Gender-equality Friendly Policies in Sweden and Norway (Chapel Hill 2002); editor, Equal Democracies? Gender and Politics in the Nordic Countries (Oslo, 1999).

Hans Bertram

is Professor of Sociology at the Humboldt University of Berlin, Department of Sociology. His main research fields are family, socialization, education, and social networks. His recent publications include: „Familie und Familienentwicklung im sozialhistorischen Kontext. Von differenzierungstheoretischen Interpretationen der Familienentwicklung zu sozialhistorischen Mehrebenenmodellen“ In Generatives Verhalten und Generationenbeziehungen. Festschrift für Bernhard Nauck zum 60. Geburtstag, ed. Anja Steinbach (Wiesbaden, 2005), pp. 27-47; Sachverständigenkommission des 7. Familienberichts. Familie zwischen Flexibilität und Verlässlichkeit. Perspektiven für eine lebenslaufbezogene Familienpolitik, ed. Bundesministerium für Familie, Senioren, Frauen und Jugend (Bonn, 2005); written with Wiebke Rösler and Nancy Ehlert, Familienpolitik: Zukunftssicherung durch einen Dreiklang von Zeitpolitik, finanzieller Transferpolitik und Infrastrukturpolitik, ed. Bundesministerium für Familie, Senioren, Frauen und Jugend (Berlin, 2005); written with Wiebke Rösler and Nancy Ehlert, "Zeit, Infrastruktur und Geld: Familienpolitik als Zukunftspolitik" In Politik und Zeitgeschichte, 2005, 23-24, pp. 6-15.

Anette Borchorst

is Associate Professor at the Department for History, International and Social Studies of the University of Aarhus. Her main research fields are Danish policies of equal opportunities (legislation and institutions), comparative research of the welfare state, the significance of gender on the political agenda, gender and the Danish welfare state. Her recent publications include: "Længere barsel på den politiske dagsorden (Extended Parental Leave at the Political Agenda)" In Demokratisk set, eds. Erik Albæk et al (Aarhus, 2005), pp. 101-114; editor, Kønsmagt under forandring (Changes ind Gendered Power) (København, 2002); written with Ann-Dorte Christensen and Birte Siim, "Diskurser om køn og politisk magt i Skandinavien (Discourses on Gender and Political Power)" In Kønsmagt under forandring, ed. Annete Borchorst (København, 2002), pp. 247-266; "Den kønnede virkelighed - den kønsløse debat (The Gendered Reality – the Non-Gendered Debate)" In Den demokratiske udfordring, eds. Jørgen Goul Andersen et al (København, 1999), pp. 113-132 .

Gunilla Budde

Is Professor for German and European History at the Carl von Ossietzky University Oldenburg. She has published on the history of the European middle classes in the 19th and 20th century, on women in the GDR, on consumer history, gender history, history of childhood, labour history and history of the family. At the moment she works on a project on politics and emotions. Her most recent publications include: ed. with Karen Hagemann und Sonya Michel, Civil Society and Gender Justice (Oxford, New York, 2005); "Wettkampf um Gerechtigkeit. Frauenförderung und Arbeiterkinder in den Hochschulreformdebatten in Ost und West" In Jahrbuch für Universitätsgeschichte, Bd. 8, eds. Ralph Jessen, Jürgen John (Stuttgart 2005), pp. 123-142; Frauen der Intelligenz. Akademikerinnen in der DDR 1945 bis 1975 (Göttingen, 2003).

Thomas Coelen

is Deputy Professor of Social Pedagogy at the University of Rostock, Department for Philosophy of education and social education. His main research fields are school-related social work, community education, and social theory. His recent publications include: edited with Hans-Uwe Otto, Ganztägige Bildungssysteme. Innovation durch Vergleich. Studien zur International und Interkulturell Vergleichenden Erziehungswissenschaft (Münster, 2005); ed. with Hans-Uwe Otto, Grundbegriffe der Ganztagsbildung. Beiträge zu einem neuen Bildungsverständnis in der Wissensgesellschaft (Wiesbaden, 2004); "'Full-time' education systems in knowledge-societies. International comparison of the cooperation between schools and out-of-school educational agencies" In education-line, 2004, 3: <http://www.leeds.ac.uk/educol/documents/00003521.htm>; Kommunale Jugendbildung. Raumbezogene Identitätsbildung zwischen Schule und Jugendarbeit (Frankfurt am Main, 2002).

Claudia Crotti

is Senior Researcher at the Department of Education of the University of Berne. Her main research fields are: gender and education, teacher education, and the history of education systems. Since 2005 she has been doing research into the Swiss public school system during the first half of the twentieth century: Discourses, rulings and decision making processes". The project is financed by the Swiss national science foundation and is due to be finished in Summer 2007. Her recent publications include: Lehrerinnen - frühe Professionalisierung. Professionsgeschichte der Volksschullehrerinnen in der Schweiz im 19. Jahrhundert (Bern, Berlin, 2005); ed. with Jürgen Oelkers, Ein langer Weg. Die Ausbildung der bernischen Lehrkräfte von 1798-2002 (Bern, 2002); "Higher Education for Women in Switzerland during the 19th Century or A History of Inequality" In Gender Perspectives on Vocational Education. Historical, Cultural and Policy Aspects, eds. Philipp Gonon, Kurt Haefeli, Anja Heikkinen, Iris lang (Bern, Berlin, 2001), pp. 95-113; written with Charlotte Müller, "'Die Galanterie wich dem Kampf'. Women at Swiss Universities in the 19th Century" In Intellectual Emancipation: Swiss Women and Education. Series "Occasional Papers in Swiss Studies", eds. Joy Charnles, Malcom Pender (Bern, New York, 2001), pp. 29-49.

Ute Gerhard

is Professor emerita of Sociology and Director of the interdisciplinary Cornelia Goethe Centre for Women's and Gender Studies at the University of Frankfurt am Main. Her main research fields are: women's rights, social policy in European comparison, the history of women, women's movement and feminist theory. Her recent publications include: ed. with Trudie Knijn and Anja Weckwert, Working Mothers in Europe. A Comparison of Policies and Practices (Cheltenham/Northampton, 2004); "The Women's Movement in Germany in an International Context" In Women's Emancipation Movements in the 19th Century. A European Perspective, eds. Sylvia Palatschek and Bianka Pietrow-Ennker (Stanford, Cal., 2004), pp. 102-122; "Engendered Citizenship: A model for European Citizenship? Considerations against the German Background” In The Politics of Inclusion and Empowerment. Gender, Class and Citizenship, eds. John Andersen and Birte Siim (New York, 2004), pp. 100-115; Debating Women’s Equality. Toward a Feminist Theory of Law from a European Perspective (New Brunswick, NJ, 2001).

Anca Gheaus

is Senior Researcher at the New Europe College, Bucharest. She has recently defended a PhD thesis entitled “Care and Justice: Why They Cannot Go Together All the Way” at the Philosophy Department of the Central European University in Bucharest. Her main research fields are: ethics, political philosophy and feminist theory, with a particular focus on issues such as distributive justice, dilemmas between care and justice, moral luck, forgiveness and dependency. Her recent publications include: “Gender Dimensions of an Informal Educational Practice. A Romanian Case Study” In Multiple Marginalities. An Intercultural Perspective on Gender in Education, eds. Justyna Sempruch, Katharina Willems and Chiara Casarella (forthcoming); “Recent Work on Women and Economy in Romania” In Feminist Economics, 12:1 (forthcoming in March 2006); “Moral Conflict and the Plurality of Values. The Private Tuition System” In New Europe College 2004-2005 Yearbook (Bucharest, forthcoming); “Limited Relevance. What Feminists Can Learn from the Eastern Experience” In Gender and the (Post) East West-Divide, eds. Mihaela Frunza and Eliza Theodora Vacarescu (Cluj, 2005), pp. 51-60.

Karin Gottschall

is Professor of Sociology, Co-director at the Centre for Social Policy Research, and head of the Graduate School of Social Sciences at the University of Bremen. Her research fields are: labor studies, work and life balance and the gender impact of education and labor market policies in a changing European framework. Her comparative research is based on collaboration with scholars from the UK, USA and Japan. Her recent publications include: ed. with Sylvia Walby, Heidi Gottfried and Mari Osawa, Gendering the New Economy (Basingstoke, 2006, forthcoming); written with Katherine Bird, “Family Leave Policies and Labor Market Segregation in Germany: Reinvention or Reform of the Male Breadwinner?” In Review of Policy Research, 2003, 20:1, pp. 115-134; “Vom Statuserhalt zur Sozialinvestition? Erziehung und Bildung als Sozialstaatstransformation” In Zeitschrift für Sozialreform, 2003, 1-2, pp. 126-147;

Dominique Groux

is Professor at the Institut Universitaire de Formation des Enseignants (College of Teachers Education) in Versailles and, during the period 2005-2006, a delegate at the Office of the French Embassy for Academic Exchange. Her research fields are comparative education and the teaching of languages and cultures. Her recent publications include: with Marijana Benesh Weiner, Short stories (Vol. 1 & 2), Ouvrage bilingue pour enfants (Paris, 2003); Une identité multiple, Mélanges offerts à Louis Porcher (Paris, 2003); ed. with Soledad Pérez, Louis Porcher, Noritomo Tasaki, Val. D. Rust, Dictionnaire d’éducation comparée (Paris, 2003); with Louis Porcher, L’altérité (Paris, 2003).

Karen Hagemann

is James Kenan III Distinguished Professor of History at the History Department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Senior Researcher at the Department of History and Art History at the Technical University of Berlin. Her main research fields are the history of welfare states, labor culture and women's movements, as well as the history of the nation, the military, and war. Her recent publications include: "Between Ideology and Economy: The 'Time Politics' of Child Care and Public Education in the Two Germanys" In Social Politics. Special issue on "Child Care in Transition: Eastern and Western Europe in Comparison" 13 (Spring 2006), no. 1, pp. 54; ed. with Stephan Dudink and John Tosh, Masculinities in Politics and War: Rewritings of Modern History (Manchester, 2004); „Männlicher Mut und Deutsche Ehre“: Nation, Militär und Geschlecht zur Zeit der Antinapoleonischen Kriege Preußens (Paderborn, 2002); with Karin Gottschall, "Die Halbtagschule in Deutschland - ein Sonderfall in Europa?" In Aus Politik und Zeitgeschichte, (B 41/2002), pp. 12-22.

Jacqueline Heinen

is Professor of Sociology at the University of Versailles-Saint-Quentin and Director of Cahiers du Genre (Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique). She is president of the Conseil national des universités de France and member of the Group of experts in social sciences of the European Commission. Her main research fields are: gender and social policies in Western and Eastern Europe. Her main publications include: ed. with Stéphane Portet, Genre et politiques sociales en Europe de l'Est, Transitions 1 (Paris, 2004); ed. with Françoise Gaspard, L'égalité, une utopie ? (Paris, 2002); Child Care and Welfare State Restructuring (N.Y. & London, 2002); "Social and Political Citizenship in Eastern Europe. The Polish Case" In Gender Justice, Development and Rights, ed. Stéphane Portet, Maxine Molyneux and Shahra Razavi (Oxford, 2002), pp.141-169.

Juliane Jacobi

is Professor of History of Education at the University of Potsdam, Department of Education. Her main research fields are: Gender in history of education, religion and education. From 1988 until 1998 she has been one of the the editors of the Feministische Studien. Her recent publications include: "Modernization through Feminization? On the History of women in the Teaching Profession" In European Education Winter, 2000-2001, 32:4, pp. 55-78; „Zwischen Erwerbsfleiß und Bildungsreligion - Mädchenerziehung in Deutschland“ In Geschichte der Frauen, Bd. IV, Das 19. Jahrhundert, eds. Georges Duby, Michelle Perrot (Frankfurt a.M., 1994), pp. 267-281; editor, Frauen zwischen Familie und Schule, Professionalisierungsstrategien von Frauen im internationalen Vergleich (Köln-Wien, 1993).

Konrad H. Jarausch

is Lurcy Professor of European Civilization at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, USA, and Director of the Centre for Research on Contemporary History in Potsdam, Germany. His main research fields are: German history during and after the period of Hitler's seizure of power, social history of German students or professions, German unification in 1989/1990, and the problem of interpreting German history in general. His recent publications include: Die Umkehr. Deutsche Wandlungen 1945-1995 (München, 2004); written with Michael Geyer, Shattered Past: Reconstructing German Histories (Princeton, 2003); Dictatorship as Experience (New York, 1999); The Rush To German Unity (New York, 1994).

Trudie Knijn

is Professor and Head of the Department of Interdisciplinary Behavioural and Social Science, Utrecht University, and director of the research programme 'Social Policy, Interventions and Solidarity' (SOPINS). Since 1991 she has been coordinating the European Network 'Women Welfare State and Citizenship'. She is a member of the research team of the 'Netherlands Kinship Panel Study' and participates in the 7th framework Network of Excellence 'Reconciliation of Work and Welfare' (RECWOWE). Her research interests are care and welfare in a cross-national perspective, family policy and family relations and the relationship between social policy and social interventions. Her recent publications include: ed. with Jan Willem Duyvendak and Monique Kremer, Policy, People, and the New Professional: De-professionalisation and Re-professionalisation in Care and Welfare (Amsterdam, 2006, forthcoming); ed. with Ute Gerhard and Anja Weckwert, Working Mothers in Europe. A Comparison of Policies and Practices (Cheltenham, 2005); ed. with Aafke Komter, Solidarity between the sexes and the Generations (Cheltenham: 2004).

Tora Korsvold

is Senior Researcher at the Norwegian Centre for Child Research, Norwegian University of Science and Technology, Trondheim. Her main research fields are: childhood, kindergarten, child care and gender in a historical perspective. Her present focus within this main project is a historical and comparative study of child care policy in three countries: Welfare state policy towards small children at a crossroads? A historical-comparative study of Norway, Sweden and Germany. Her recent publications include: in cooperation with Nina Volckmar, "Velferdspolitikken i skole og barnehage. En Reorientering? (The welfare politics for education and day care. A reorientation?)" In Pedagogikk og politikk, ed. Petter Aasen (Oslo, 2004), pp. 233-246; Om barnehageutbygging og endringer i offentlig velferd for barn (The raising of daycare centres and changes in public welfare of children) In Barn, 2004, nr. 1, pp. 27-51; Foreldreskapets historie (The history of parenthood: a book review of Wiebke Kolbe: Elternschaft im Wohlfahrtsstaat) In Barn, 2003, nr. 4, pp. 91-95; "Kinder und Familienpolitik. Vereinbarkeit von Familie und Beruf in Skandinavien. Das Beispiel Norwegens am Ende des 20. Jahrhunderts" In Norröna Zeitschrift für Kultur, Geschichte und Politik der skandinavischen Länder, 2002, nr. 31 & 32, pp. 23-32, 65-71.

Sabina Larcher Klee

is Senior Researcher at the Department of Education of the University of Zurich and co-Editor of the journal "Schweizerische Zeitschrift für Bildungswissenschaften." Her main research fields are: the history of education (Gender, Race, Class and Society), education policy, teacher education. Her recent publications include: „Feminisierung des Lehrberufs – Beobachtungen aus institutioneller Perspektive“ In Zeitgemäße Bildung - Sozial- und bildungstheoretische Rahmenbedingungen des Aufwachsens, eds. Jürgen Oelkers, Hans-Uwe Otto (München, Basel, 2006); „Die Frage der Vereinbarkeit von Familie und Beruf vor dem Hintergrund aktueller Schulentwicklungsprozesse: Tagesstrukturen als Voraussetzung, Instrument oder Strategie für Chancengleichheit?“ In Educare: betreuen – erziehen – bilden. Reihe: Studien+Berichte 24 A, ed. Schweizerische Konferenz der kantonalen Erziehungsdrektoren EDK (Bern, 2005), pp. 42-56; "Mütterlichkeit" In Historisches Wörterbuch der Pädagogik, eds. Jürgen Oelkers, Dietrich Benner (Weinheim, 2004), pp. 700–723.

Sonya Michel

is Professor of History and American Studies at the Department of History of the University of Maryland, College Park, Department of History. For 2006-2007, she is a fellow at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington, D.C., where she is completing a book entitled Old-Age Insecurity: Instabilities and Inequities in American Retirement Provision. Her main research fields are: the history of gender and social policy in the U.S. and in comparative perspective, and the issue of child care. . Her recent publications include: ed. with Rianne Mahon, Child Care At the Crossroads: Gender and Welfare State Restructuring (New York and London, 2003); co-edited with Lynne Haney and Lisa Pollard, Families of a New World: Gender, Politics, and State Development in Global Context (Oxford, 2002); Children's Interests / Mothers' Rights: The Shaping of America's Child Care Policy (Yale, 1999);

Kimberly Morgan

is Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Affairs at The Elliot School for International Affairs at The George Washington University. Her main field of research is on the politics of the welfare state, with a particular interest in child care, parental leave, health care, and public finance. Her recent publications include: written with Andrea Louise Campbell, "Federalism and the Politics of Old-Age Care in Germany and the United States" In Comparative Political Studies, Oct. 2005, 38, pp. 887-914; "The Production of Child Care: How Labor Markets Shape Social Policy and Vice Versa" In Social Politics: International Studies in Gender, State & Society, 2005, 12, 2, pp. 243-63; "The Politics of Mothers' Employment: France in Comparative Perspective" In World Politics, 2003, 55, 2, pp. 259-289; written with Kathrin Zippel, "Paid to Care: The Origins and Effects of Care Leave Policies in Western Europe" In Social Politics: International Studies in Gender, State & Society, 2003, 10 (1), pp. 45-85.

Hildegard Maria Nickel

is Professor of Sociology of work and gender relations at Humboldt University, Department of Sociology. Her main research fields are: the service sector, the sociology of work, and gender relations, especially focussing gainful employment of women in the German Democratic Republic and the new German states. Her recent publications include: written with Karin Lohr, Subjektivierung von Arbeit - Riskante Chancen (Münster, 2005); ed. with Eva Kolinsky, Reinventing Gender, Women in Eastern Germany since Unification (London/Portland, 2003); with Ilse Lenz, Birgit Riegraf, Geschlecht, Arbeit, Zukunft (Münster, 2000).

Agostino Portera

is Professor of Intercultural Education at the University of Verona, head of the Department of Educational Science, and head of the Center for Intercultural Studies. Member of the editorial board of Intercultural education, Carfax, London. His main research fields are: globalization and identity, intercultural education, intercultural counseling, textbooks , family education , cooperative learning, education to citizenship. His recent publications include: Educazione interculturale in famiglia (Brescia, 2004); Tesori sommersi. Emigrazione, identità, bisogni educativi interculturali, 3rd ed. (1° ed. 1997) (Milano, 2003); editor, Pedagogia interculturale in Italia e in Europa (Milano, 2003); L'educazione interculturale nella teoria e nella pratica (Padova, 2000).

Elisabeth Regnault

is Lecturer in comparative Education at the department of Educational Sciences of the Louis Pasteur University in Strasbourg (France). Her research fields: student Mobility and European Citizenship, intercultural education in Europe, and Career guidance in Europe (Comenius 3: Thematic Network -2005-2008). Her recent publications include: ed. with Henry Vieille-Grosjean, La construction de l'identité européenne. Altérité, Education, Echanges (Paris, forthcoming); « Le Conseil de l'Europe » In Dictionnaire d'éducation comparée, ed. Dominique Groux (Paris, 2003), pp. 332-334; « La laïcité » In Dictionnaire d'éducation comparée, ed. Dominique Groux (Paris, 2003), pp. 343-348.

Sabine Reh

is Professor of Education at the Technical University of Berlin, Department of Education. Her main research fields are: social and cultural history and the theory of school (modern schooling as discourse and ritual performance), school development as development of organisations, the development of all-day-schools, and the theory of educational professions. Her recent publications include: ed. with Ulrike Popp, „Welches Wissen benötigt die ‚pädagogische Praxis‘?“ In Schule forschend entwickeln (Weinheim, München, 2004), pp. 75-87; Berufsbiographische Texte ostdeutscher Lehrer und Lehrerinnen als ‚Bekanntnisse‘: Interpretationen und methodologische Überlegungen zur erziehungswissenschaftlichen Biografieforschung (Bad Heilbrunn, 2003); written with Carla Schelle, „Schule als Lebensbereich der Jugend“ In Jugend im 20. Jahrhundert. Sichtweisen - Orientierungen – Risiken, eds. Uwe Sander, Ralf Vollbrecht (Neuwied, 2000), pp. 158-175; „LehrerInnen in der DDR - LehrerInnen im vereinten Deutschland. Vom Wandel des beruflichen Selbstverständnisses. Chance für eine Professionalisierung?“ In Professionalisierung pädagogischer Berufe im historischen Prozeß, eds. Hans Jürgen Apel, Klaus-Peter Horn, Peter Lundgreen, Uwe Sandfuchs (Bad Heilbrunn, 1999), pp. 254-276.

Karel Rýdl

is Professor of Educational Sciences at the University of Pardubice (East-Bohemia) and Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Humanities. He is President of the European Forum for Freedom in Education (E.F.F.E.). His main research fields are: History of Education and Schools, Alternative Education Movement, School and Society, Quality Management and School Quality Improvement. His recent publications include: Inovace školských systémů (The Innovation in the School Systems) (Praha, 2003); Peter Petersen a pedagogiky jenského plánu (Peter Petersen and the Pedagogy of the Jena-Plan) (Praha, 2001); Cesta k autonomní škole (The way to the autonomous School) (Praha, 1996); Alternativní pedagogická hnutí v naší společnosti (Alternative Educational Movements in our Society) (Brno, 1994).

Dorottya Szikra

is Professor at ELTE University, Budapest, Hungary, Faculty of Social Work and Social Policy, and Visiting Professor at the Central European University, Budapest, Department of Gender Studies. Her main research fields are: early social insurance legislation, the history of Hungarian and Eastern European social work, social policy, and family policy. Her recent publications include: Dorottya Szikra/Eszter Varsa: "Gender, class and ethnicity-based differentiation in the practice of Hungarian social work. A case study of the Kozma-Street Settlement, 1935-1945" In Need and Care – Glimpses into the Beginnings of Eastern Europe's Professional Welfare, eds. Kurt Schilde, Dagmar Schulte (Opladen, 2005), pp. 123-134; "The implementation of the first Hungarian social insurance act" In European Journal of Social Security, 2004, 14 (3), pp. 233-251; "The Thorny Path to Implementation: Bismarckian social insurance in Hungary in the late 19th century" In European Journal of Social Security, 2004, 6 (3), pp. 255-272.

Rainer Treptow

is Professor of Educational Sciences/Social Pedagogy at the Department of Educational Sciences of the University of Tübingen. His main research fields are: structures of operations and processes of social work; organisations and aid; youth work and research on adolescence; theories on social pedagogy/social work; theories on culture and cultural education; historical development of social work. His recent publications include: „Unge-schickte Übergänge: Zur lebensgeschichtlichen Gestaltung von Passagen“ In Lebens-Übergänge. Wagen, Entwickeln, Verändern, eds. Hans-Peter Färber, Wolfgang Lipps & Thomas Seyfarth (Tübingen, 2005), pp. 3-20; ed. with Ludwig Liegle, Welten der Bildung in der Pädagogik der frühen Kindheit und in der Sozialpädagogik (Freiburg, 2002); "Ordnungs-begehren. Zum Schematismus von Exklusion und Inklusion" In Neue Praxis, 2002, 2, pp. 194-201; Kultur und Soziale Arbeit. Gesammelte Aufsätze (Münster, 2001).